

President's message.

Year 2021 is coming to its end and like the year 2020 it has not allowed much of what we hoped to achieve. But nevertheless the activities within the industry are picking up slowly as the world economy depends on the connectivity among nations and our industry is playing an important role together with the Airline personnel in adopting the necessary measures and procedures while flying passengers during the Covid -19. Thanks to the resilience we have inculcated within our organisation, we are able to keep the WACA Flag up.

In June this year, we were all shocked and sad to learn the sudden demise of our dear WACA council member Julian Chau and we can only pray that his soul rest always in peace.

On the other hand we were happy this year to hold our WACA Council meeting in conjunction with an International Event hosted by the AIM region in Dubai. This was an opportunity to meet up with the council members, the associates, regional coordinators and other interliners.

We can only hope that year 2022 will be the end of the pandemic and interliners will be able to travel and participate to our Bali package and other WACA International events to renew the friendship whilst enhancing the WACA spirit further.

On behalf of the council members and on my own name, I would like to seize this occasion to wish you and your loved ones a Merry Christmas with lots of loves, joys and good health and a very happy New year 2022.

Warmest regards and with loves.

Maga Ramasamy

WACA President
